School Supply Drive Gives Kids the “Write” Start

(August 28, 2018 – Algona, IA) – Thanks to the generosity of area residents and Iowa State Bank, kids in the Ruthven-Ayrshire Schools and at LuVerne Elementary will start the school year with the right supplies for a successful school year.

Offices in Corwith, Ruthven and Wesley collected supplies and cash donations within the community to distribute to their local schools. In Corwith, Cindy Kohlhaas presented Jon Hueser, Superintendent with LuVerne Schools, with a collection of disinfectant wipes, hand sanitizer, Kleenex, along with the traditional paper, crayons, glue, and folders collected as well as a cash donation of $250. The Corwith and Wesley offices continue to serve as a collection point for Boxtops in Education.

In Ruthven, the Ruthven/Ayrshire Schools received a large tote and a box full of school supplies as well as nearly $400 in donations from community members and the bank. Sheree Eischen and Kim Hohensee are pictured with the donations.

“The need for school supplies remains strong. We appreciate the community’s support and are proud to lead this effort to help kids. We’re pleased that so many people helped us with the school supply drive,” stated Larry Conlon, Vice President.

The school supply drive helps all kids prepare for school. Iowa State Bank is committed to helping kids succeed with projects such as the school supply drive and with its Kool Kat Kids Klub, a savings program aimed at teaching kids the importance of saving money. (END)
